

EAST COAST OF CANADA HERE WE COME (2019)

Joanne, a wife and mom to two daughters 12 and 14, was diagnosed in 2011 with Stage 4 breast cancer that spread.

Joanne's condition didn't allow her to leave the country so she chose to create a road trip from their past.

Their trip started taking in the historic sites of Quebec city, on to experience the amazing changing of the tides at Hopewell rocks in the Bay of Fundy, went whale watching, took in the sites of Charlottetown and spent time on Cavendish beach in PEI. On to Halifax they enjoyed more of what the city had to offer.

It was a stress free trip that allowed them to enjoy the many activities, hotels and great food that they otherwise wouldn't have been able to do. Joanne found it very tiring and painful but explained it paled in comparison to the wonderful moments she shared with her husband and children.

Being aware of the seriousness of her disease Joanne and her family knew that this would be the last summer she may be able to travel.

Joanne and her family are very grateful for the assistance from Dreams to Memories to help them take this trip and create wonderful and lasting memories.
